

FAKE NEWS

What do we call fake news:

Fake news is false or misleading information presented as news. Fake news often has the aim of damaging the reputation of a person or entity, or making money through advertising revenue. Although false news has always been spread throughout history, the term "fake news" was first used in the 1890s when sensational reports in newspapers were common.

How to avoid fake news:

Read beyond the headline. If a provocative headline drew your attention, read a little further before you decide to pass along the shocking information. Even in legitimate news stories, the headline doesn't always tell the whole story. Some false stories aren't completely fake, but rather distortions of real events.

A fake new looks like:

In 25-05-2025 something crazy will happen the sun will crush into the earth and everyone will die! Start gathering food and dig your own bunker maybe you could survive the crush. The chances of you surviving is 0.000001%!!!!
